I Don't Care

Is the market moving up or down? I don't care. Do you know why? It's because I've got the trick and strategy of making endless money time after time. Either you are a beginner, advanced trader, or professional all I need is just some minutes to show you a brand new strategy that makes money whatever the market does - without the use of complicated and lagging technical indicators.

What Traders Think!

Most Forex traders and investors trade based on technical analysis using a handful of indicators they think clarifies market trends for them. They spend hours researching every indicator, taking in way too much data trying to discern what the market will do next. It isn't pretty, and it doesn't work well for most traders. Only the best of the best can make it work with technical analysis! And, it's boring, tedious work. Worse yet - about 95% of traders fail to make any money using technical analysis.

What You Need To Know!

Within minutes of a planned economic announcement, a currency pair could gain or lose one hundred pips almost instantly. In fact, research has proved that news announcements can cause a currency to gain or lose anywhere from 20 to 300 pips, all within a few minutes.

The best thing about this is that since the day and time of the news releases are published in advance, I can pick exactly when to sit down in front of my computer to make my trades, and make the most money in the shortest amount of time possible, without knowing a thing about technical analysis. This was a huge discovery for me and for you too now that you know about it.

The technique of news trading is very simple. After big news releases, market prices will fluctuate, either for the better or worse, depending on the announcement. For example, if the U. S. government announces the unemployment rate has gone down faster than expected by Analysts, many traders might invest in U.S. dollar because they expect its value will go up relative to other currencies.

If a news trader is able to act quickly enough and get in the market in the right direction, even the smallest news release can be turned into a potential profit of thousands of dollars.

My SOLUTION

But I found a way to virtually eliminate these risks by placing 2 pending orders - with either one being the one to make money, depending on what direction the market moves. I hedge my bets - placing both a buy and a sell pending order above and below the current price, and doing it right before the news release hits the streets.
Why?

This way, our pending orders have our bases covered: if the market goes up or if the market goes down - there's a pending order there to "catch the wave".

One Second or within Microseconds before the actual release of the news you set your pending orders, I mean both sell stop and buy stop probably with your take profit and stop loss. Notice that before the actual release of the news, the market will be silent waiting for what will happen.

But you might think you have won.

Not yet, Why? Some brokers are waiting for you to FAIL

During key news releases, broker spreads can widen up and eat into your profits. While everyone else is "rolling the dice" and gambling on which direction a currency will go after a news release hits the streets, completely unsure of when to pull the trigger, and in which direction to trade, you will be armed to maximally exploit that short period of time when the market moves the most!

Since these are "pending orders" they are orders that will not be executed until the price reaches a level selected by you.

And "straddle", once the market movement triggers a pending order to be taken in (accepted). And you make sure you delete the other pending order immediately.

In a week, you could be in money depending on your lot size because of the news releases that are coming out nearly every day. And each of these represents a trade opportunity.

You might be wondering at this point - do all news releases result in huge gains? No, because sometimes the news data actually matches analyst's expectations, so it doesn't cause any 'Spike' in the market. But enough of news releases would be available monthly which would make you HUGE money every month.

How do you go about it.

Go to www.forexfactory.com

First, check if the time on the website corresponds with your own time on your PC, if not, change it by doing this:

Change it to the following and save the settings. (choose Western Europe London, Lisbon and Casablanca)

The screenshot shows the 'Time Zone Settings' page. It displays the 'Synchronized Time' as 10:35am. Below this, there's a warning message: 'Synchronized Time does not match your computer clock. Match Automatically'. The settings are as follows:

- Time Zone: (GMT) Western Europe Time, London, Lisbon, Casablanca
- DST: DST On
- Time Format: am / pm

Arrows point to the 'Time Zone' dropdown menu and the 'DST' dropdown menu. At the bottom, there are 'Save Settings' and 'Cancel' buttons.

Now you can go and find News to prepare for.

Click on calendar and this is what you' ll find.

Magic No: Magic no to track orders open by the EA

BuyLots: Pending Lotsize, you want to use for buy pending

Buy SL: Buy Pending Order Stop Loss

Buy TP: Buy Pending Order Take Profit

Buy PriceOffset: Distance from current market price to where Buy stop will be set.

SellLots: Pending Lotsize, you want to use for sell pending

Sell SL: Sell Pending Order Stop Loss

Sell TP: Sell Pending Order Take Profit

Sell PriceOffset: Distance from current market price to where Sell stop will be set.

Other features to help you manage your trade even while market is moving fast.

Remove Opposit Order: If set to TRUE, it means if any of the Pending Stop get activated it will delete the other pending order immediately

Use Trailing Stop: if set to True: will use the input you inserted into:

TrailingStop, TrailingGap and NewTakeProfit to manage the trades.

Use PartialClose: If set to True it will manager your Orders based on lotsize.
Example: if original opened order is with 0.4 lots and set parameter Leave Lots to 0.2 then at PartialStop this will close 0.2 lots and leave 0.2 lots still open. This feature checks for minimal lots value allowed by your broker.

Use Breakeven: If set to TRUE. It will set your stoploss of the triggered pending order into entry price once price moves postively with the number you set in BreakEvenStop.

Note: You can use all this features together...{TrailingStop,PartialClose and BreakEven}

And just wait for news to spike and see the EA do the rest for you.

You can attach it on any timeframe, but I prefer 1 minute or 5 minute time frame..

After few seconds, if the pending does not trigger...Just delete it.

WHAT I RECOMMEND

This strategy works, I know you too can reason along with me this is not a lie. It works!

IF you want to use this strategy, Find a broker with a FIXED SPREAD and that will allow you withdraw your money and that won't give you some dumb rule after you've made profit or find a broker with REPUTATION and they don't lie during news.. You can't know that broker until you find it. So that's my suggestion.
